Lansdowne Lecture

The University of Victoria's Public Lecture Series features the words and work of distinguished men and women, across a vast array of academic and research endeavours. As host of this lecture series, UVic continues its mission of enriching the human mind and heart.

Dr. Sanna Järvelä

Professor in Education
(Learning and Educational Technology)
University of Oulu, Finland

Bringing Learning Sciences and Educational Technology to the Classroom: From Design to Orchestration

Tuesday, 27 January, 7:00 p.m.
Engineering Computer Science Building
(ECS), Room 124

Presented by the Department of Educational Psychology and Leadership Studies

Dr. Järvelä is a professor in the field of learning and educational technology and head of the Educational Technology Research Unit in the Department of Educational Sciences, University of Oulu. Her presentation summarizes research on computer-supported collaborative learning. She will address how collaboration among peers can be designed and enriched with technology, how teachers can create conditions in which effective group interactions are expected to occur, and how various technologies such as smart phones and mobile internet can be used for developing deep learning in formal and informal learning contexts.
